

Archive sign digital deal with Universal - 2005-10-23

Archive have signed a pioneering deal with Universal's New Media division.

This unique digital-only short term deal means that the band's physical releases will continue to be licensed through Warner Music France whilst Archive's digital releases will be licensed through Universal's New Media division.

This is a move that is sure to raise the band's profile, giving them more exposure online and making their catalogue much more accessible to fans around the world.
