

Doloroso: Live On Tour - 2006-01-27

With the aid of all that is Jack Frost's winter weather to toughen the UK crowds' tolerance for brutal force, ie: music's exponents of seductive pop-noir have begun their first ever tour in true A Team style with their leather 'n' chrome interior black splitter van.

Having released their first download, The Killer Calm, taken from the self-titled debut album, Doloroso, through Trial and Error Recordings the band have also enjoyed spot plays on both Zane Lowe's and Nigel Kennedy's shows and are now looking forward to releasing their first physical single, High Times In Middle Management, in April.
