

Archive's New Revolution Commences - 2006-03-14

Archive are back in full effect with their new album. Lights, their fifth studio album and third to be released through Warner Music France, is out on 22nd May 2006.

The first single, System, can already be heard on the radio and will be available across major digital download platforms.

Touring kicks off in Munich, as part of the German Visions Tour, on April 18th which sees Archive in the headline slot, lined up alongside The Zutons, The Kooks and Duels. Followed by a host of Summer festivals and a full European tour in the Autumn, which culminates at the Zenith Arena, Paris in January 2007, it already looks like this could be the most exciting year yet for Archive... it's about time we saw their name up in 'Lights'.