

Archive Sell Out Greek Shows - 2007-01-29

Having sold out the 6000 capacity Zenith in Paris a week ago, Archive went on to play two sold out shows in Greece at the weekend. The Ydrogeios club in Salonica was sold out and many fans had to be turned away and in Athens at Fuzz Live the band played for over 2 hours.

These will be the last dates for a while, festival offers are coming in so fans can expect to see them throughout the summer when they go out on the festival circuit throughout Europe. Archive will now continue writing new material for the new album and plan to go back into the studio in February.

To keep up to date with the bands' progress and all their latest news be sure to regularly visit their website via the link below.

<http://www.archivemusic.net>