

Archive Sell Out London Show - 2007-04-02

On Thursday 5th April 2007, Archive will be performing live in the UK for the first time in five years. The night is hosted by Club Fandango and will take place at The Borderline in London.

The gig is sold out but fans are being offered the chance to win five pairs of tickets via Archive's website.

For your chance to win, click http://www.archives-archive.com/archive-staging/comp/competition_signup.php.